Living the Past in the Future
Erkan BOSTANCI1 and Adrian F. CLARK
VASE Laboratory, University of Essex, Colchester, United Kingdom

Abstract. This paper presents two fictional stories describing an augmented reality system that helps users learn history in an entertaining way. A complete impression of the surrounding environment is achieved by virtual human agents with sophisticated AI and thorough interaction with other users.

Keywords. Augmented Reality, Cultural Heritage, History, Games

References

1 Corresponding Author: Erkan Bostanci, VASE Laboratory, University of Essex, Colchester, United Kingdom; E-mail: gebost@essex.ac.uk.