AN OPPORTUNITY NOT TO BE MISSED!

The Australian Lebanese Historical Society Inc. is hosting an evening with Professor Akram Khater (North Carolina State University) which will include a screening of his documentary film, Cedars in the Pines: The Lebanese of North Carolina, followed by a discussion. Thanks to the generous sponsorship of Parliamentarian, Thomas George, the film night is at NSW Parliament House, Sydney.

Professor Akram Khater will be in Sydney as the keynote speaker at an international workshop, Arab Diasporas: Migration, Citizenship, and Transnational Identities convened by Professor Sahar Amer and Dr Jumana Bayeh at the University of Sydney.

A Professor of History, Dr Khater is the director of the Moise Khayrallah Center for Lebanese Diaspora Studies at North Carolina State University. He is the author of several books, has created a documentary on the history of the Lebanese community in North Carolina, and is the senior curator for a museum exhibit on the same topic.
