References

Blau, A. (1946). The master hand: A study of the origin and meaning of right and left sidedness and its relation to and schizophrenia assessed with magnetic resonance imaging.

Schizophrenia Research, 27, 45–53.

Fagard, J., Monzalvo-Lopez, K., & Mamassian, P. (2008). Relationship between eye preference and binocular rivalry, and between eye-hand preference and reading ability in children. Developmental Psychobiology, 50 (8), 789-798.

differences in gene frequency and not direct social pressure. Paper presented in Annual Conference of International Neuropsychological Society. Denvour, USA.

aspect of crossover reaction time and task performance. Psychiatry Research, 81, 241-249.

Lateral preferences and schizotypal

Vollema, M. G., Sitskoorn, M. M., Appels, M. C., & Kahn, R.S. (2002). Does the schizotypal personality questionnaire reflect the

Collinson, S.L., Mackay, C.F., James, A.C., Quested, D.J. Philips, N., & Gouw, T. (2003). Brain volume, asymmetry and intellectual impairment in relation to sex in early-onset schizophrenia. British Journal of Psychiatry, 183; 114-120.

